Devlin Hall room 026

The Zoo by Hayden Campbell (Documentary feature, 2005, 50 min, Palestine/New Zealand)

A day in the life of Palestine's one and only zookeeper, Dr. Sami Khader. Like the zoo itself Qalqiya, the city where Khader lives and works, is completely fenced off from the rest of the world by Israel's "separation" barrier. Campbell accompanies the voluble and entertaining Dr. Sami on a mission to rescue two baboons.

Stranger in my Home by Sahera Dirbas (Documentary short, 2007, 37min, Palestine)

Stories of eight Palestinian Jerusalemite families who have been turned into refugees.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 8TH

7:00 PM

Boston College, Chestnut Hill, MA
Higgins Hall room 310

Enraged by Eyal Eithcowich (Documentary Feature, 2006, 58 min, Israel)

Exposes a face of the Israeli left that is rarely seen or talked about with an appearance by Anarchist against the Wall Activist Matan Cohen.

Co-presented with the Arab Student Association, Middle Eastern and Islamic Studies Student Association (MEISSA), and the Fine Arts Department at Boston College.

All films are free and open to the public.
